U. S. UTILITY LAWS BITTERLY ATTACKED

Railroad Attorney Declares Disparity in Statutes Makes for Poorer Service.

HOWELL, Mich., Aug. 23.—One system of laws to govern public utilities in the United States was urged by Seward L. Merriman, general counsel for the Pere Marquette railroad, in an address at a citizens' banquet here to mark the fifteenth year since the advent of the first train in Howell.

With the statutes of one state conflicting with another, railroads are forced to spend hundreds of thousands of dollars annually to "keep within the law," Merriman declared. The ultimate effect of this disparity in statutes, he said, is to make railroad service poorer, not better.

The rate question was only touched lightly, Merriman declaring rates would not decrease until a further industrial readjustment was effected and some attempt made to codify public utilities law.

'WARE WASTE AND WEAR WELL!

Human Bodies Are Poisoned by Their Own Waste. Most Illnesses Are Preventable.

The human body has to be heated and fine foods burned inside the body produce much waste. All this waste should be removed from the body regularly, thoroughly, daily, by the eliminative organs,—which are the bowels, kidneys, skin, and to some extent the lungs. These should act in harmony —if the bowels are inactive extra effort is required of the others, which easily become deranged. Many medicines will force bowel action temporarily but the after-effects are harmful. Many remedies are advertised, some of which have proven year after year to be reliable, efficient, and without harmful action or effect. Take Beecham's Pills for example. For over 70 years Beecham's has been a household word all over the world. 70 years of use by all sorts of folks, men, women and even children, have proven first, that Beecham's Pills do what is claimed for them; second, that they are harmless, do not produce bad effects. Some medicine forces Nature to unnatural action. Other medicines, like those contained in Beecham's Pills assist Nature, act mildly, persuade and hence produce no harmful effects. It is common to find families in which Beecham's have been used by several generations, their use handed down from father to son and from mother to daughter.

That's the best possible recommendation for any remedy. Every druggist sells Beecham's, is glad to do so because he knows that their reputation has been won by merit.
